INDIANAPOLIS, OCTOBER 19, 1841.

RELIEF LAW. We understand that it is now the intention of Governor Bigger, in his rext annual message to the Legislature, to recommend some sort of a Relief or Stay law. Whether the Governor does or does not recommend the passage of such a law; or whether such a law be correct in principle and in policy. and of more benefit than injury to the people at large; let all this be as it may, Governor Bigger, should not be entitled to the merit of originating the measure, though he has the opportunity of forestall- this article, of carrying out the argument in full.

ing others in proposing it. The merit or the responsibility which may attach to the originator of the measure, will belong most emphatically, not to Governor Bigger, but to the Senator from this District, Mr. NATHANIEL WEST. This gentleman specially pledged himself on the stump to introduce a bill for such a law, if possible on the first day of the session. He was elected as the Relief candidate. His bill of Relief of the late Congress; and what lover of his country has been already drafted; and unless some un-could do otherwise! he does exercise it, he does exercise it, he does so from profound con-bed toed the Bank, and Maryland would veto Mr. Ty-pectations of the democracy. Rumon .- It is rumored, -but that is doubtless a jest coined by some graceless wag,-that the whigs intend to petition Governor Bigger to reprieve Andrew Evans, the member of their State Board of Equalization, put in office by them last winter, and put in the Penitentiary by the law last summer, for a certain small offence called forgery. WILLIAMSVILLE, Oct. 13, 1841; Dear Sir: Another gun for liberty in Orange of the 12th. We met the whogs in open field fight : their weapons were the fragments of their buckeye canes, and coon skin bumbug stories that were left of last fall, and we came at them with reason and argument, which they couldn't stand the first round of, and were compelled to back water and surrender. Last fall, in this township the whigs had 33 majority, and yesterday they had to give way, and let the true democracy out ahead. ROSS DISTRICT.

Chillicothe, Oct. 13, 1841: Democratic gain 481. Above I send you the returns of this, Ross county, as far as heard from at this time, seven o'clock, A. M., and wish you to send me an extra if you put them out. We are sure to carry this district.

The federal majority will be less than it is now. The whigs give up this district. Late from Ross, Pike, Jackson and Hocking. O'T The full returns from this district show & complete revolution. The Chilhcothe Advertiser
